

Staff Grievance Policy

DRAFT (under consultation)

Staff Grievance Policy

1 Terms of Reference

1.1 For all employees employed by the Board of Directors of the Constellation Trust.

1.2 Definitions:

'Head of School' also refers to any other title used to identify the Headteacher, where appropriate, or other senior manager delegated to deal with the matter by the Head of School/Headteacher.

'Companion' refers to a person chosen by the employee to accompany him/her, who shall be a trade union representative or a workplace colleague.

2 General Principles

2.1 There are a number of issues that can cause grievances at work and these may include working conditions, application or non-application of policies and procedures, environment, relationships with management or colleagues, duties and responsibilities, or work volume. Grievances may relate to discrimination, harassment, bullying or victimisation. The aim of this procedure is to enable any employee to have his/her grievance heard and to seek redress as appropriate. The intention is that grievances should be settled quickly and fairly and should be first dealt with as close to the source as possible.

2.2 Where the grievance relates to a matter covered by another procedure for example pay, probation or whistleblowing, then the matter will be dealt with in accordance with the relevant procedure. This grievance procedure may not be used to complain about dismissal or disciplinary action. An employee who is dissatisfied with any formal warning should submit an appeal under the appropriate procedure.

2.3 Where an employee raises a grievance during any existing process or procedure that process may be temporarily suspended in order to deal with the grievance. However, where the grievance and the existing process are related, it may be appropriate to deal with both issues concurrently. The Executive Head/CEO will have discretion to decide which option is appropriate, in all circumstances. If the grievance or process related to the Executive Head/CEO the decision will be made by the Chair of the Board of Directors.

2.4 The procedure applies to all employees including the Head of School and members of the leadership team, full and part time, permanent and temporary employees. If it is the Head of School who has a grievance, then the Executive Head/CEO is the person to whom the Head of School refers to as his/her immediate line manager at Stage 2. If it is the Executive Head/CEO who has a grievance, then the Chair of the Board of Directors is the person to whom the Executive Head/CEO refers to as his/her immediate line manager at Stage 2. If the grievance is not resolved at that stage, the matter should be referred to Stage 3. If individual governors are the subject of the grievance, such person(s) shall not sit with the Appeal Committee but may attend the Directors' Appeal Meeting to present his/her case.

- 2.5 This procedure does not form part of any employee's contract of employment and it may be amended at any time.
- 2.6 An employee who is a member of a trade union may consult that trade union's representative before invoking the grievance procedure, but the employee should normally raise the problem personally with the immediate line manager before involving his/her trade union representative.
- 2.7 Those responsible for dealing with employees' grievances will treat them seriously and attempt to resolve them as quickly as possible. There should be no attempt to block an employee's wish to raise the grievance at a higher level.
- 2.8 Employees should recognise that an investigation may be necessary which may delay the process beyond normal time limits.
- 2.9 At any stage of the procedure the Head of School, Executive Head/CEO and/or Directors may refer to an adviser external to the Trust for guidance to bring about a resolution of the grievance acceptable to both sides outside the formal procedure. Such conciliation is without prejudice to the position of both parties in the procedure.
- 2.10 The Head of School and/or Executive Head/CEO and/or Directors may wish to take advice from the Trust's HR Advisor before considering a grievance.

3 Stages of the Grievance Procedure

3.1 Stage 1: Raising Grievances Informally

Most grievances can be resolved quickly and informally through discussion. If an employee feels unable to speak to the person causing the grievance, then the employee should speak informally to his/her immediate line manager. If this does not resolve the issue, the employee should follow the formal procedure below.

If the employee's grievance is against the line manager personally, the grievance may be referred directly to Stage 2 but it would normally be reasonable to inform the line manager of this intention.

3.2 Stage 2: Formal Grievances

If the employee is not satisfied his/her concerns have been addressed informally, the employee should submit the grievance in writing, indicating that it is a formal grievance, to the Head of School or Executive Head/CEO where the grievance related to the Head of School or member of the Trust's Leadership Team. The employee should use the Notification of Grievance Form (Appendix A) to state the grounds of their grievance and the remedy that is being sought.

The Head of School or Executive Head/CEO where the grievance related to the Head of School or member of the Trust's Leadership Team, will normally meet the employee to hear the grievance and reply as soon as possible, normally within 10 working days, even if it is only an interim reply pending further investigation. The Head of School or Executive Head/CEO where the grievance related to the Head of School or member of the Trust's Leadership Team may be accompanied by another employee, or the Trust's Advisor.

An employee may bring a Companion (see terms of reference) to any formal grievance meeting or appeal meeting under this Stage 2. An employee must tell the person holding the meeting who their chosen Companion is, in good time before the meeting.

At any grievance meeting or appeal meeting, an employee's Companion may make representations and ask questions, but should not answer questions on the employee's behalf.

If an employee's chosen Companion is unavailable at the time a meeting is scheduled and will not be available for more than five working days afterwards, the employee will normally be required to find an alternative Companion.

It may be necessary to carry out an investigation into the grievance. The amount of any investigation required will depend on the nature of the complaints and will vary from case to case. It may involve interviewing and taking statements from the employee, any witnesses, and/or reviewing relevant documents.

The employee must cooperate fully and promptly in any investigation. This may include informing those handling the investigation of the names of any relevant witnesses, disclosing any relevant documents and attending interviews.

An investigation may be started before a grievance meeting is held where this is considered appropriate. In other cases, a grievance meeting may be held before deciding what investigation (if any) to carry out. If appropriate and/or necessary, in those cases a further grievance meeting may be held with the employee after the investigation and before a decision is reached.

The Head of School or Executive Head/CEO where the grievance related to the Head of School or member of the Trust's Leadership Team will write to the employee, following the grievance meeting, to inform the employee of the outcome of the grievance and any further action that will be taken to resolve it.

If the employee raising the grievance is not satisfied with the outcome, then the employee may appeal in accordance with Stage 3 below.

3.3 Stage 2: Formal Grievances

If the grievance has not been resolved to the employee's satisfaction they may appeal in writing, to the Clerk to the Board of Directors, setting out the grounds of their appeal, within 10 working days of receiving the written confirmation of the original decision. The employee must detail how they consider the grievance procedure has not been correctly applied, and/or how the outcome was not reasonable or proportionate.

The appeal will normally be heard as soon as possible after receipt of the appeal letter, by an Appeal Committee of one or more Directors, convened by the Clerk to the Board of Directors.

The Appeal Committee may have an HR Advisor attend the meeting who may also be involved in its private deliberations. The HR Advisor, who should not have had any previous involvement in dealing with the grievance, shall not have a vote in the decision of the Appeal Committee.

The Appeal Committee will confirm its final decision in writing, as soon as reasonably possible after the appeal meeting. This is the end of the procedure and there is no further right of appeal.
